

Network pricing summary: prices effective 1 April 2018

Network Tasman distributes electricity to connections in the Nelson-Tasman region, excluding central Nelson. The delivery prices in the table below cover the cost of our local distribution network and the cost of national transmission of electricity. These prices are used to charge electricity retailers. Electricity retailers determine how to package our charges together with the energy, metering and other retail costs when setting the retail prices that appear in your power account.

Network Tasman's total delivery price will increase by 1.3% from 1 April 2018 to reflect increased costs of supply. This is equivalent to 68 cents per month (excluding GST) for an average residential connection.

Discounts are credited directly to consumers' power accounts for eligible connections twice per year. The first discount will be calculated based on usage from 1 April 2018 to 31 August 2018. The second discount will be calculated based on usage from 1 September 2018 to 31 March 2019.

Understanding the table below: Most residential consumers and some small businesses (those who have supplies with a maximum delivery of 15kVA) are Group 1 consumers. Group 2 consumers have a delivery capacity of between 20kVA and 150kVA.
